Gould, took advantage of the absence of her mother (who is spending the afternoon visiting friends) and procured a handsome easy chair for a birthday present, which Mrs. Gould will find on her return home this evening.

—We have been unable to find a member who knows anything about "The Janesville sack company" holding a regular meeting this evening. The regular meetings of this company are always held on the first Tuesday evening of each month. "It would be a little more consistent if the not always infallible news gatherer on the other side of the creek would refresh his memory occasionally," etc., etc. oh! Who knew de last brock?

—Mr. Willie Walrath, youngest son of Mr. Sylvester Walrath, of the town of Fulton, met with a very painful accident on Sunday afternoon. He was in his room at his father's house, handling a loaded revolver, when one of the barrels was accidentally discharged, the ball passing through the portion of his left hand, making a very severe and painful wound. He was taken to Edgerton and the wound was attended to by Dr. S. L. Lord.

The solemn service at the house was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends of the deceased, there being numerous floral tributes brought in by the neighbors and friends. The remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. The bearers were Messrs. Alfred Hoskins, W. D. Cargill, Chas. Sexton, J. F. Antisdel, Clark Buralham and Wm. A. Lawrence. —The second annual re-union of the Iron brigade will be held in La Crosse on September 13th and 14th. The great success which attended their first re-union, held in Milwaukee about three years ago, was very gratifying to the veterans, and the various committees who have the arrangements for the coming gathering in charge will make every effort to render their second reunion even more pleasant and profitable than the first one. A proclamation has been issued by General E. S. Bragg, of Fond du Lac, acting president of the society, in which he calls on all the members of the Iron brigade to rally in their fullest strength, and invites the veterans of all other commands to join with them and help to make the re-union a success.

—Last evening about six o'clock a team of horses drawing a two-seated open buggy, in which were four ladies and two children, became frightened by the dropping of the pole of the buggy as they were descending East Milwaukee street hill. The horses started on a run, but the lady driving them held on to the reins, and when in front of the residence of Mr. James Foster, she pulled them into the gutter, the buggy suddenly tipped over throwing all the occupants out. None of the party were injured, although the buggy was slightly damaged but was soon repaired at the shops of Messrs. Howland & Son. The cause of the accident was owing to a defective harness, which broke as the team commenced to descend the hill.

—The people of the second ward were a little excited this forenoon when they discovered Alderman Konyon, Buchholz, Palmer and McLean, in company with City Attorney Hizer, following up the source of the dry canal from North Fifth street to St. Mary's avenue, but when the people were informed that these gentlemen were simply a committee appointed to examine, etc., etc., and devise some means to prevent further damage by a sudden rise of water in the canal, they rejoiced. Whether the committee will report in favor of referring the whole matter to the highway, street and bridge committee, or instruct the street commissioner to proceed and repair the canal, was not learned, but will probably be brought to light at the next meeting of the city council, which will be held on Monday evening. We hear that the committee enjoyed the joke of a legal argument between Aunt Abbie and one of the members of the committee, who informed her that the city was trying to devise means to wash out her pig sty. Those who heard the argument say that as Abbie commenced to warm up and grow eloquent, the chairman of the committee called time and left her master of the field.

—The following item from the Racine Journal may be of interest to some of the dog owners of this city, who neglect to take out a license for their pets, as the law is the same here as in Racine, and we understand that it is the intention of the authorities to see that it is strictly enforced: "Christian Lang owns a dog. Policeman Pritchard called at his house to collect the tax, but Christian would not pay and informed the officer to that effect in very emphatic language. Yesterday afternoon he was arrested and arraigned before Justice Snyder, but pleaded not guilty. Testimony was taken and found strong enough to convict him, and he was fined $10 and costs, which he paid. This shows the foolishness of people who refuse to pay a $2 tax and in the long run pay from $10 to $20. The police are determined to arrest every person who refuses to pay the tax."

—Mrs. J. W. Yarnall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Wilson, arrived from San Francisco this afternoon, accompanied by her son Ralph. She was met in Chicago this morning by her sister, Miss Julie C. Wilson, and also by Mr. C. E. Moseley. Mrs. Yarnall will visit with her parents several months, and during her stay in the city will be most cordially greeted by a host of people whose warm friendship she has gained prior to taking up her residence in California several years ago.

THE TREACHEROUS RIVER.

Little Willie Hines Falls Into a Watery Grave.

This afternoon little Willie Hines, son of Mr. John Hines, who resides near St. Patrick's church, in the fourth ward, fell into Rock river just below the railroad bridge at Monterey, and was drowned. He and three other little boys, named Frank Whalen, Steve and Joe Grogan went to the river for the purpose of bathing. They reached the river bank at a point some 20 feet below the south end of the railroad bridge just as the south-bound passenger train was on that structure, and Willie Hines started down the bank on a run. The bank is very steep, and some 30 feet in height. One of the boys who was with him, says that Willie was going so fast down the bank that he could not stop, and when he reached the bottom, he fell into the water. The abutment of the bridge forms a large eddy in the water, but the boys say that Willie came to the surface, and that they saw him some five or six rods farther down stream, when he disappeared. This being the case, he reached the swift current of the river, and has been washed down the stream, and it will perhaps be some time before his body is recovered. Marshal Hogan and Aid. McLean were on hand, and aided by a large number of citizens, they all tried to recover the body, but all their efforts have proved of no avail at the time of going to press.

Willie Hines was about fourteen years of age.

As the sad news reached the city, a large number of people hurried to the scene to render what aid they could in recovering the body of the lost boy. The grief-stricken parents have the deep sympathy of all in their great loss. Mr. Hines, the boy's father, was at the place where Willie fell into the river when the Gazette reporter arrived, but was so overcome with grief that he was unable to do or say anything, and we learned the facts of the sad affair from one of the companions of the drowned boy.

Strength for Mind and Body.

There is more strength restoring power in a box of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. This explains why invalids find it such a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.

THE CARPENTER MONUMENT.

Description of the Shaft His Family Will Erect at Forest Home.

The following, taken from the Evening Wisconsin of last evening, will be read with deep interest by the citizens of Rock county:

On the first of December next there will be erected over the grave of the late Senator Carpenter, in Forest Home cemetery, a stately work of masonry, a fitting tribute in memoriam of his bereaved family. The work is a cabinet monument, a light lime green composition, seven feet square at base, and twenty feet high, and is composed of white marble, and is brought from light blue Vermont granite. The design is fresh in conception, bespeaking dignity and repose in every line. The shadows and high lights are few, but powerful, the grand effect being obtained by well proportioned masses, blending softly in receding grooves, lines pyramidal, from base to apex. The base bears in bold raised letters the family name, and on the front of the die the record of his early and brilliant career is cut in letters raised, unpolished. In front of the monument a flight of granite steps, flanked by massive flower vases, forms the approach from the street. The finished work aggregates sixty tons in weight, and is constructed to withstand the centuries the lightning bolts of time, and in its design, it will tell the story of the broken career of a great immortal soul, wrapped in eternal slumber at its base. The design is from the pencil of C. B. Croft, architect, 335 Broadway, New York city. Mr. Croft is a specialist in masonry architecture, and is the designer of the renowned Laurel Glen Mausoleum at Cullingsville, Vermont, and several works of note in Greenwood cemetery, New York.

Two Hundred Dollars Reward.

While diligent search has been kept up since July 9th, for the recovery of the horses stolen from Mr. Sumner Parker of the town of La Prairie, no trace of them has yet been discovered. Mr. Parker now offers two hundred dollars reward for their recovery; of both the horses or $100 will be paid for the return of either of the horses, or the above reward will be paid for the return of the horses, or for any information leading to their return. Mr. Parker has already been to considerable expense in looking for the stolen property, and now it begins to look as though all efforts to recover the stolen property had failed.

City Carpenter Barr Has a Leg Broken.

About half-past three o'clock this afternoon people down town were startled by seeing John Robinson, one of City Carpenter Barr's assistants, ride through the streets at a rapid pace requiring for a doctor, and it was soon learned that Mr. H. M. Barr had met with the unfortunate accident of having a leg broken. Mr. Barr and a force of men were proceeding on Fourth street, near E. street, where the road is very hard, and Mr. Barr was driving a three horse team, while Robinson was holding the plow handles, and Rhoda Kervin was sitting on the plow beam, when with a snap the side bar nearest Barr broke in two and the whiffletree flew back with great force striking him on the shin of the right leg and badly breaking the leg. Mr. Barr was not knocked down but stood on the other foot until all about him realized what had happened when he was taken into Surveyor Wilson's yard. Dr. Johnson was soon found and reduced the fracture. —Deloit Press.

Topping Tobacco.

The good judgment of the grower must be carefully exercised as to time and manner of topping, as he alone can decide when his crop is ready, and mistakes will be found expensive. One portion of a field may be ready to top and the remainder may come in a week later; this is what is planned for in planting, so that it will be ready to top. Top when it is in the bud, not waiting for the blossoms to appear, for strength and nourishment that should aid in maturing the upper leaves of the plant will be spent in the blossoms. By judicious topping the grower holds for the top leaves all nourishing power of the roots, thus driving to maturity the more backward portion of the plant, giving even quality to upper and lower leaves.

How to top is to be determined by the possibility for the future, which depends upon the condition of the plant, fertility of the soil and the season. The temptation to top high comes from the hope of gaining weight, but this is where the greater number of mistakes are made. If the season has been such that a topping could be done early, then more leaves will mature than if the season were backward. Again, from the quality of soil, one field may properly mature sixteen or eighteen leaves, while the other, while the soil is light, may only mature eight or ten leaves. The low topping produces larger leaves, more body and firmness, more weight, with less labor, and ripening earlier escapes the frost.

A grower urges that to give the plant proper spread, close attention be given to topping; that it be done when the plant is in the bud, and that many leaves be left on the stalk, as the grower thinks from the quality of soil and condition of the plant will mature. Proper topping throws the strength of the plant to the leaves, developing the top leaves to ripen with the lower ones, giving even quality and merit to the crop. After topping, he says, look out for suckers, pinch them off at first sight, to give all benefit to the top leaves. Attention of this kind will show great results immediately after the crop is harvested. He thinks the crop is in the bud, and that the top leaves in proportion to nourishment given. Therefore, no strength must be wasted in buds or suckers. The life of the upper leaves is cut off by the stalk maturing below, but if the plant has been topped in time all will ripen alike. —Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

Emerald Grove.

—This is the weather that makes the farmers rejoice.

—We had the pleasure of shaking hands with Richard Jones, of Dakota, last week. He is well pleased with his new home on the land of promise and will return again this week taking with him his threshing machine and binder with which he expects to do a heavy fall work.

—Miss Nellie Squire met with quite a painful accident last Thursday. While riding her horse back she fell from the horse spanning a wrist which she now carries in a sling.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hastings, of Janesville, paid their son, E. A. Hastings, a short visit on Sunday last.

—Miss Jessie Jones, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, is stopping with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Jones.

—A young man from Janesville drove into Mr. Loren Olson's yard, and four nights ago, and after he and his fair companion had lighted the horse suddenly concluded that he would strike out for himself. Starting to run, he crashed through the fence adjoining on the west, and brought up finally against the wire fence on Wm. Timke's premises. It proved quite fortunate that the gate in Mr. Hines' yard was shut, otherwise the horse would probably have gone to Chicago without a driver.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Robertson, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John McArthur, left for Chicago last week Wednesday.

—Mr. Gar. Waterman on Saturday last, while riding horse-back in pursuit of another horse, was suddenly thrown down, the horse falling on him in such a way as to break a leg in three places between the knee and ankle. Mr. Waterman and Seebor were in attendance, and the horse was taken to the Grove last night heavily by the hail storm in Dakota.

—A. A. Hamlin, our shoemaker, is about to leave us we understand. He has rented the hotel at Durien and takes possession August 1st. We regret that he feels obliged to leave the Grove, but give him our best wishes for his success in his new undertaking.

—Mrs. August Cheney is attending the Sabbath school convention at Lake Monona, Madison.

—George Beesly has shown us a potato of the Mammoth King variety fifteen ounces in weight. This will keep up George's reputation as a potato raiser for a short time.

—There will be an eloquentary entertainment in the Congregational church Tuesday evening, Aug. 1st, given by Miss Anna and Missie Carlis, of Marion, Alabama, who are on their way to Doane college, Nebraska, to attend school. A fifty cent programme will be given for ten cents admittance.

Butter and the Democracy.

Boston, July 31.—The traveler says: "Oh, yes, I'm in hopes he'll be beaten this fall. The speaker was an old-time Democrat, and he was once proposed to run with the 'blue' referred to on the state ticket of his party. 'You see,' he continued, 'sally to a Traveller reporter, 'I don't object to him for governor, but if he succeeded again next time he will be on hand in the national convention, and that breaks the Democratic party.' 'Why was he asked, 'What will he do there?' 'Do there? What won't he do there? He'll go in with a stuffed club under his arm and he'll come out alive and kicking, but the party will be carried out on a stretcher.' —New York.
